Advice Interactive Group donates in support of the Children's Advocacy Center of Johnson County to promote child safety across the web

Dallas, TX – Advice Interactive Group, one of the country's most innovative Inc. 500 digital marketing agencies, is proud to announce its support of "B4U Click," a children's advocacy program developed by the Children's Advocacy Center of Johnson County. This week, Advice Interactive presented a check of $52,000 in support of the development of this program.

"We are so happy to support this program," said Bernadette Coleman, CEO of Advice Interactive Group. "As Internet marketing professionals, web safety is a cause near and dear to our organization's heart. The Children's Advocacy Center of Johnson County is doing amazing things with this program, and when completed, it will be an invaluable resource for teachers, families, and law enforcement."

The B4U Click program is a unique abuse prevention and Internet safety program modeled after the UK's "Think U Know," program. When completed, it will be a web-based education center that provides videos, presentations, and other online media information about online safety and web abuse prevention. The program will also provide a "Report Abuse" section on the site, where children can communicate directly with law enforcement if they feel they have been the victim of an online predator.
